What time do the polls open and close on Election Day?

On Election Day, the polls must be open at 7:00 a.m. and must stay open until 7:00 p.m. that same day. If you are in line when the polls officially close at 7:00 p.m., you must be allowed to vote.

- Which clock counts. The opening and closing times must follow the usual local time in the county seat.
- Public announcements. The poll workers called inspectors must publicly announce when the polls open and when they close.
- Ballot box in view. During the election and the canvass of the votes (the official count), the ballot box must not be hidden.
